What we believe concerning...

... the wicked. God will eventually destroy the wicked, as He did once before in the flood. ^a Through the prophet Malachi God declares: "the day is coming, burning like an oven, and all the proud, yes, all who do wickedly will be stubble. And the day which is coming shall burn them up." ^b The writer of Ecclesiastes states: "the hearts of the sons of men are full of evil; madness is in their hearts while they live, and after that they go to the dead." ^c So when Jesus said of those who did not act on their faith "these will go away into everlasting punishment" ^d he was merely saying that they would be condemned to death - and what could be more final, or everlasting, than oblivion? For we read in Ecclesiastes 9v10: "there is no work or device or knowledge or wisdom in the grave where you are going."

Who we are...

Meet Andrew. Andrew is a maths teacher and lives in Lichfield with his wife, Emma, and their beautiful daughter. His favourite way to spend his spare time is having adventures in their little family of three. He loves to be outdoors and particularly enjoys days that include either steam trains or bridges (or, even better, both!). A walk and a tea room would also feature in his perfect day. Andrew is interested in computers, vintage cars and wood work, and likes to spend time with friends discussing the Bible - especially prophecies about events in the world that will lead to Jesus Christ returning to set up God's kingdom on the Earth. His favourite book of the Bible is Hebrews which explains how Christ brought together and fulfilled all the laws in the Old Testament, and became the Saviour.

Did you know?

We all know someone who likes to sound their own trumpet and make sure we know how wonderful they are! But did you know that it was Jesus that coined this phrase? He warns against being like this in Matthew 6v2, "When you do a charitable deed, do not sound a trumpet before you as the hypocrites do ... but that your charitable deed may be in secret."
